NORTHWEST COUNCIL.

(SPECIALLY REPORTED.)

Regina, Wednesday, Oct. 13.

The eighth session of the Northwest Council opened at 8 o'clock this afternoon with the usual formalities.
Most of the members were in their places at the hour named and shortly after His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor appeared, escorted by a detachment of police. He wore the Windsor uniform and was accompanied by Supt.
Gagnon, acting A. D. C. Messrs.
Cayley, Lander and Turf, new members, were introduced.

(The Speech from the Throne was given in our telegraphic report last week.)

On motion of Mr. Perley, seconded by Mr. Secord, the following were appointed a committee to draft a reply to the Speech, viz: Lt. Col. Irvine, Messrs. Turf, Hughes, Cayley, the mover and seconder.

On motion of Mr. Ross, seconded by Mr. Hughes, Judge Richardson, Messrs.
Bedford, Lander, Jolly, Hughes, Perley and the mover were appointed a committee to strike standing committees.

An order-in-council from Ottawa was laid on the table. It gives the Lt. Governor and Council power to levy direct taxation and to incorporate joint stock companies.

An Ordinance respecting joint stock companies was read a first time and was also one respecting the mode of calling juries, and another respecting vital statistics.

The Council then adjourned.

Thursday, Oct. 14.

His Honor took his seat at 2 p.m.
The minutes of the previous session were read and adopted.

Judge Richardson reported from the committee appointed to strike standing committees, recommending the following standing committees:

CHURCH AND SCHOOLS.—Messrs. Richardson, Macleod, Ryland, Messrs. Secord, Reed and Cayley.

SCHOOLS.—Messrs. Macleod, Ryland, Messrs. Marshall, Turf, Lander, Hughes, Secord and Perley.
FINANCE.—Messrs. Perley, Bedford, Ross, Hughes and Jolly.

MISCELLANEOUS.—Messrs. Reed, Bedford, Cunningham, Ross and Cayley.

Moved by Mr. Secord, seconded by Mr. Turf, that a committee consisting of Messrs. Richardson, Perley, Cayley, the mover and seconder be appointed to consider the question of asking the Dominion Government to provide an early date for a recommendation for the Supreme Court.

The bill respecting the administration of justice was read the second time and referred to committee on civil justice. The one respecting the incorporation of joint stock companies to regulate the mode of calling juries in the Northwest Territories, and one respecting vital statistics.

Colonel Macleod reported that he addressed in reply to the Hon. Governor's speech, the subject was not a committee of the whole to be called and resolved to read the address at the meeting.

The Council agreed to the address, which was as follows:

1. The members of your Council have leave to thank you for the speech delivered yesterday, and are glad to be gratulating you on the progress of the valuable progress in the Northwest Territories.

2. The Council of the Canadian Pacific Railway is to be congratulated on the progress made in the Northwest Territories, and is to be congratulated
Territories.

3. The Council of the Canadian
Territories, and is to be congratulated
Territories.

4. The Council of the Canadian
Territories, and is to be congratulated
Territories.

5. The Council of the Canadian
Territories, and is to be congratulated
Territories.

pleased to know that the schools and municipal ordinances passed last session are working satisfactorily, and we assure Your Honor that we will give our best attention to legislation that will heal the difficulties at Calgary, as well as to any matter you may lay before us. We are very much pleased to hear of the success which has attended the Indian and Colonial Exhibition, and trust it will be made permanent. We are glad to learn from your Honor, occupying as you do the position of Commissioner for Indian Affairs, that the state of the Indians is so satisfactory. It is to be regretted, calculated as it is, to deter immigration, and to give false views on the question which humanity and justice would suggest should be kept out of the strife of parties, that statements are made in the east about the condition of the Indians, which are known in these Territories to be without foundation.

We assure Your Honor of the importance we attach to the suggestions in regard to advising the present boundaries of the electoral districts with the view to a more complete representative character being given the council. We unite in believing that the time has come when that character should be given to the council which appertains to the Legislative Assemblies of the older provinces. The can-sels of the territory recently taken seems to show that a redistribution of Electoral boundaries will bring the elective members of the council up to that number which would be below on the territories the assembly indicated in the Northwest Territories Act. It seems to be a matter of only of such a distribution of seats as will leave no qualified voter in the country unen-franchised to secure the result desired by the framers of the act. The at-most consideration should therefore be given to the subject. We join with your Honor in wishing that the visit of the Premier and other members of the ministry have been of the greatest advantage to the country.

Friday, Oct. 15.

His Honor took the chair at 3 p.m.
The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

Mr. Honor thanked the council for the address in reply. He was glad that they could agree with him on the subjects which he had brought before them.

His Honor laid on the table the public accounts of the Territories from Nov. 1st, 1885, to Aug. 31st, 1886.

A petition was presented from the settlers of Belle Plain, praying that they be not incorporated with the Municipality of Qu'Appelle.

Mr. Perley moved that it be referred to the committee on municipal law, but it being explained that no such committee had yet been appointed, he agreed to allow it to lay on the table in the meantime.

The petition of Robert Dundas Strong, Barrister of Qu'Appelle, praying that certain fees and expenses of registration be refunded, was read and referred to the finance committee.

His Honor laid on the table a correspondence from Calgary and Moose Mountain in reference to their respective agricultural societies; it was referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Cayley introduced and moved the first reading of a bill to relieve Calgary from the municipal disabilities. Carried. The bill was referred to the civil justice committee.

Mr. Bedford moved that a committee be appointed to inquire into the report on the causes of prairie fires and recommend such amendments to the present Ordinance as would secure greater immunity from the evil. He requested to state that there had been a great number of fires during the past season and hundreds of settlers had lost their crops and buildings and some lost their cattle. The present Ordinance was evidently not effective and he hoped it would be amended. The committee named were: Messrs. Lander, Marshall, Turf, Turf, Turf, Cayley, J. J. and the mover and seconder.
Lander, Cayley and Mr. Hughes were also added.

Mr. Ross moved that the finance committee be instructed to inquire into the working of the bill respecting the licensing of billiard tables. Carried.

The Council then adjourned till Monday at 2 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 18.

After His Honor had taken his seat and the minutes of previous sitting been read and approved, Mr. Robert Crawford, the councillor elected for Qu'Appelle, was introduced and took his seat.

Mr. Secord presented petition from J. H. Logan, manager of the Home Land & Cattle Company, praying the Council to pass a recommendation to the Dominion Government to extend the period during which cattle may be entered free of duty for breeding purposes one year from Sept. last when the time expired. The petition set forth that the Company secured a lease in the Wood Mountain district last year intending to remove 30,000 head from Texas to the new ranch, but owing to unprecedented drought along the route which they were to be brought prevented them from reaching the boundary with the main body, but 6,000 head had been brought from Washington Territory and are now on the ranch at Wood Mountain.
He estimated that the Dominion Government would derive a revenue of $310,000 the first year from the cattle which his company proposed to bring in. The petition went on to show that the rancher was not the enemy of the farmer, that the operation of the company would diffuse a large amount of wealth throughout the district, and that the towns along the Railway would be built up by the trade which would result.

On motion of Mr. Secord the petition was referred to a special committee consisting of the Governor, Col.
McLeod, Dr. Lander, Messrs. Hughes, Turf, Lord Boyle and the mover.

Col. Richardson from the standing committee on civil justice reported favorably Cayley's bill respecting municipal affairs at Calgary.

Mr. Cayley moved the council into committee of the whole to consider the Ordinance. Mr. Cayley took the chair and explained the object of the bill. He said that the municipal affairs of Calgary were in a very unsatisfactory state. There had been an election of councillors early in the year but some of the gentlemen who ran and received a large majority of the votes had been previously disappointed by a certain stipendiary magistrate, and the latter therefore declared a set of candidates who received a very small majority of the votes.
Two distinct councils were accordingly constituted but neither of them had been able to make an assessment or raise funds to meet the necessary expenses of the town, much less to provide fire protection which was urgently required, and the people of Calgary had urged the newly elected members of the Northwest Council to bring the matter up without delay and have it settled. The effect of the ordinance would be first to abolish both councils, to hold an election immediately under the provisions of the ordinance respecting first elections.
This was necessary to avoid going to another council for a voters list. The new council is to hold office till Dec.
31, 1887. The bill also provides for the adjudication of expenses and debts incurred by both councils, this to be done by one of the judges and the amount to be paid by the managing agent and such other as the people of Calgary felt that it was undesirable that Stipendiary Magistrate should pass upon claims for expenses incurred during the trouble. The Ordinance was passed clause by clause and the committee rose and reported, and on motion the bill was ordered to be engrossed. Third reading on Wednesday.

His Honor laid on the table correspondence in reference to the Ordinance respecting the sale of stolen horses. Referred to the civil justice committee.

Lord Boyle and Mr. Crawford were added to the committees on finance and miscellaneous subjects; and Mr.
Hughes to the committee to the supreme court.

The Council then adjourned till Wednesday, it being explained that there was no work ready for it while the committees had their hands full.

A Belgian syndicate has taken the Gongo Railway concession.

Military preparations are being made in Russian Bessarabia.

The condemned Chicago Anarchists are to be hanged on Dec. 4th.

MR. CRAWFORD ELECTED.

The election on Thursday last to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. T. W. Jackson resulted in the return of Mr. Robert Crawford, of Indian Head, by a majority of 42 votes over Mr. G. S. Davidson, of Qu'Appelle. The contest was a keen one, and from some of the false statements made to influence the electors some feeling has arisen, but which will no doubt soon pass away. The result of the polling at Qu'Appelle was a surprise to both sides. The vote elsewhere in the district turned out about as was expected by Mr. Davidson's friends, but at Qu'Appelle there were a number of votes polled for Mr.
Crawford that had been promised to Mr. Davidson, and a further number that were not polled at all, which together would have made sufficient difference in the vote to have placed Mr. Davidson at the head of the poll. Certain persons have accused THE PROGRESS of supporting the whiskey party, thus being inconsistent with its advocacy of temperance. Our reply is that Mr. Davidson has frequently informed the editor of this paper during the past year that he was opposed to the introduction of any kind of intoxicating liquor into the Northwest. No more can be said in favor of Mr. Crawford in that respect. As to the use of liquor in the contest, we regret to admit that it was used to a certain extent on both sides, but more particularly so by some of Mr. Crawford's friends in the district for the purpose of influencing votes. We do not believe, however that it was used with the consent of either candidate. Of course it could not be used very largely on account of our prohibitory law, it being done mainly through permits previously obtained. Now that the voice of the people has been heard, we trust that their affairs will be well looked after, and that no part of the district will be placed at a disadvantage by the result. Mr. Crawford will have the support of THE PROGRESS in all that he does for the benefit of the district, but we warn him that we will require at his hands the fulfillment of his redistribution promises, and therefore will watch his course with care.

As will be seen by the address in reply to the speech from the throne of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to the Council of the Northwest Territories, the Council agrees with His Honor in saying that the Indians of the Territories are quiet and contented. The Council expresses its regret at the foundation-less statements made in the eastern papers about the condition of the Indians. Will the eastern papers make the correction? We fear not.

To do so would not suit the purposes of partyism. There are some papers that would rather see the whole Northwest steeped in blood than admit that Indian affairs in the country were in a satisfactory condition.

On Saturday last the editor of THE PROGRESS had an interview with a gentleman who has lately been in the west for some weeks and passed through much of the Blood Indian country. He says the depredations being committed on this side of the border are traceable to marauding bands of Indians from south of the line. He further says our own Indians are quiet, and the holding up of parties in the vicinity of Medicine Hat was done by United States Indians.

It has been ascertained that there are at least 900 actually resident adults in the South Qu'Appelle municipality, and it is thought that there may be 1000 if a careful census were made. If such is the case it should be formed into an electoral district. It appears that the electoral district of South Qu'Appelle as proposed by Mr. Crawford contains many more than the required 1000 adult population. Let us have the new districts conform to the municipalities.

The Calgary Tribune has blossomed into a daily, the first number of which has been received. It presents a very creditable appearance.

CANARY BIRDS AS PETS.

A pet canary in the house is a sunbeam. Always busy, never having an idle moment, and always doing something new, it enlivens the dull and encourages the slothful to industry.
Young girls or wives with a long and lonely afternoon of mending before them can set the cage on the table beside the work-basket, chat to the bird, sing with it and teach it new notes as the needle is plied. Patience and continual instruction only can teach a bird tricks. Because it sometimes gives no outward sign of imitation is not to be accepted as a belief that it is not learning. It is practicing the trick in private, and not until after a perfect rehearsal will it give a public exhibition.
To teach a bird to kiss, hold him lightly, chatting in soothing tones, till he is quiet; then kiss him repeatedly, still soothing him with gentle talk.
Kiss the bill again and again till he ceases to struggle in fear of the salute; then bestow a final one—a kiss of approbation—and release him to partake of his enjoyment. Repeat this the next day—several times a day if you wish to teach him quickly—and he soon resorts to this performance as a method of coaxing, opening and closing his bill between your lips exactly as you have done by him; so nearly as bird imitation is possible. If he picks your lips do not notice it before him.
The cage of a nervous bird should never be touched without first calling the tenant's attention, because, being always engaged in some project, an abrupt action startles him just as it would a human being who is come upon suddenly.

To teach him to sit upon your finger, draw a chair up near the cage, hold a conference with him, and then introducing a finger between the wires near his favorite perch hold it there, patiently reading your book or paper meanwhile. The new object showing no disposition to harm him, he goes up cautiously for an examination. Then he picks to ascertain the material may be he fights it. This is a good sign. He no longer fears it.
Repay him with some choice morsel cheerful words for his courage. Try him again in the afternoon. He may go further and light on it. Possibly the trick may take several days. Be patient. Once the step is attained, vary the programme by introducing the finger in other sports. He will soon light on it at any point or angle.
Next try thrusting the finger under the door. Next time fasten it open, quelling egress with the rest of the hand as one finger extends within.
When he perches on it draw forth a little way. Next tempt him to the perch outside a little, and so on. In a short time you but have to open the cage door, uplift a finger, and he is sure to fly for it and he may be thus called to any part of the room to rest on the familiar perch. To eat from the finger, let him hunger several days for some favorite dainty—say a fig. Show him one; disregard his hunger; do not let him have it.
Spread a few seeds over the end of your finger and offer them close by his perch, allowing him plenty of time for speculation. Soon he will snatch off a seed or two. If he utterly refuses, put him sadly away, leaving the fig where he can see it. Next day try again; he'll take one or more. That will do. Don't plague him any longer.
Give him a piece of fig in the cage and leave him alone until next day.
He may feel independent, being sur-fitted, and refuse to pick. No matter; put him away without his fig. The next day he is sure to pick it off. The finger. Praise the act and reward him after that it is his own doing.

Why She Never Married.

[For Chicanati Commercial Gazette.] No doubt it takes pluck for a man of modest fortune to ask a rich woman to marry him, and no doubt rich women often go unmarried for want of the asking. The writer once asked of Boston's loveliest woman, some time past her first youth, rich, of excellent family and an altogether charming person: "Miss L., why have you never married?" "I am tempted to tell you the truth," with a vivid blush, "nobody has ever asked me. I am rich and well to do, and I have no mistress.
A man could offer me very little that I have not, except his love, and I fancy most of men don't appreciate that trifle at its full value. At least they don't know—how should they?—how much a true man's love is to a lone woman."

Labour and Its Influence.

Passing from the important subject of health, let us see what other conditions are required to the wearing of our garments gracefully.

Sometimes we hear it said of this one or that, by those who labor hard:
"He carries his years lightly, and no wonder he takes the world easily. As is not obliged to toil." Now it may sometimes chance that there are other favorable conditions so weighty as to overbalance the unfavorable one of an inactive life; but I can not believe that the latter is an ingredient in the Fountain of Youth. As good health is one of the prime ingredients in this fountain, labor (being conducive to health) must be an important ingredient also. I mean, of course, labor in suitable doses, proportionate to the ability of the individual—real, active, earnest, hearty toil, but suitably diversified with recreation and rest.

Physical labor, especially if out-of-doors, strengthens sinews, aids dig-gestion, imparts sweet sleep, purifies the blood, and sends it coursing vigorously through the veins. It has also its favorable influence on the mind.
That life which is replete with activities, has little room for morbid anxieties, petty cares, corroding jealousies or cankering animosities, which are far more destructive to the vigor and freshness of youth than the most arduous or mortal toil.

Where a rational amount of labor is productive of evil results to those of ordinary health, the cause may generally be found in some unhappy condition of mind, an excessive ambition that leads to exertions beyond one's strength; a jealous spirit that chafes at the greatest success of friend or foe; an undue regard for criticism; a dissatisfaction of one's work—these are a few of the causes which dry up the springs of cheerfulness and tranquillity—those ever indispensable tributaries to the Fountain of Youth.

To appreciate the full value of cheerfulness as a nourisher of youth, we have only to observe those who take life in a hard and uncheerful way.
"Laugh and grow fat" is an old saying; and whether much laughter—otherwise a cheerfulness of spirit and ability to throw off care—tends to obesity or no, it certainly does effect to a remarkable degree, the condition and appearance of both form and face.
Look at those who are perpetually lugging a shadow instead of the sunshine of life, and see how they have aged and weakened before their time, and what seamed and seared and withered visages they wear! Especially susceptible of impression is the mouth, and easily moved by the current of internal thought—becoming beautiful or ugly according to the prevailing temper of the mind. No toil, however arduous, can draw such deep and heavy lines about the mouth, worry, No ill-health, with all its wearying anguish and harassing pain can trace such pensive lines as fretting. No sorrow, however grievous, or care, however heavy, can make it as a continual mope, melancholy, discontented, and complaining mind—

Moved by Coun. Nimmons sec. by Coun. Hall, that the clerk and C. W. Cole inspect the books of the Municipality and prepare a balance sheet showing all assets and liabilities and present it at the next meeting of the Council. Carried.

The Battleford Herald is sound on the liquor question: It says, 'The impression has in some way gone abroad that after the lapse of a few weeks licenses to retail liquor will be issued in the Territories. This cannot be, and no one need build his hopes upon it. The granting of licenses is prohibited by Act of Parliament and can only be authorized by another Act. The permit system is no doubt sometimes abused, and liquor law violated just as other laws are broken; but these are not valid reasons for repealing the time when Provincial organization will be extended to the Territories it would be impolitic to disturb the existing state of things. The agitation in favor of free trade in liquor is confined to a comparatively limited number and to but a few centres of settlement, the frequency with which its advocates put forward their demands making it appear more general than it really is. When Provincial self-government is extended to the Territories the question of license or prohibition will probably be settled at the polls. The beneficial results that have followed the existing license law are so marked that the country can afford to continue under it until Territorial pupillage comes to an end, even at the risk of offending those who pretend they cannot get along without places where liquor may be purchased. Were the prohibitory clause in the North-West Territories Act enforced some allowance might be made for the agitation; but unless the Lieutenant-Governor is greatly misrepresented, his liberality in granting permits is such that no one who does not notoriously abuse the privilege need be without his grog.'

Medicine Hat, N. W. T., Oct. 5.—M. Quesnelle, a Maple Creek scout, was held up last week by a number of Indians. Superintendent Melroe, of Maple Creek, sent out a police detachment; and they came up with about twenty Pigeon Indians. They held the police detachment up, and ordered them back, and superiority of number compelled the police to obey.

BULGARIAN AFFAIRS.

The newspapers publish a telegram from Guirguero Roumania, which states that the movement in favor of Russia which started in the Bulgarian army under the leadership of the garrison at Shumla, is now in full progress. The movement has spread rapidly and the adhesion of the garrisons at Rusechuk, Widdin, Plevna and Slivno appears to be unquestionable. The Shumla garrison telegraphed to the Bulgarian minister of war that they were convinced the present state of political anarchy was injuring the rights and interests of the people and country. They desired to release all originators of the coup d'etat as demanded by Russia, and wished Gen. Kullar's note containing the Czar's demand to be considered by the Bulgarian Government in order to avoid a breach between the two sister nations. "Otherwise," the message concluded, "the garrison reserved the right to act on their own judgment." This is signed by Commanders Khezaroff.

The serious split that appears to exist in the ranks of the Liberals in the country of Huntingdon, and the plain talk indulged in by such papers as the Montreal Witness and the Huntingdon Gleaner, indicate that the Riel cry will have a two-fold effect even in the province of Quebec. The gains to the Liberals by the race-and-revenge issue will not be without some losses, and the latter will come largely, if not entirely, from the English-speaking population. Among the constituencies likely to be concerned by this dissension is Montreal West, where, it is said, Mr. George W. Stephens, the present Liberal representative, will have a hard fight. The feeling on the part of Witness and those who think with it, may be appropriately summarized in the language of the "only religions"—itself: Mr. Mercier's platform, patled up with the planks from the scaffold, anti-vaccination, prejudices, and national ignorance, is an extraordinary one for a Liberal leader. And it is because of this extraordinary platform that the Witness declines to fall into line, and advises the electors to have regard more to the calibre of the candidates themselves than to the party to which they profess allegiance.—Sun.

When a Canadian band gave a concert in Chicago a few days ago it wound up the program by playing "God Save the Queen." A second after the first notes had been heard by the immense audience one could see a general popping up all over the Music Hall. It was amusing to see the glances exchanged in various quarters of the house, but a second's hesitation sufficed for the ladies. They jumped and men followed until perhaps eight hundred or a thousand were on their feet, where they remained until the last strains of the National Anthem of Great Britain had died away. The women led; for this and other things we are proud of the far ones from Canada.—Canadian American.

Fort Benton, Oct. 6.—A party of Bloods had been trailed as far as the Sweet Grass, some distance south of the line a day or so before the fight, by a scout from Fort Assiniboine. The Bloods are greatly excited, and were with difficulty restrained by the mounted police, who are attempting to hold them north of the line and keep them from making reprisals upon the Gros Ventres on American soil.

A despatch from Suakin: At dawn yesterday friendly natives assailed and carried Thana, Osman Digna's old stronghold. Two hundred rebels were killed and many prisoners taken. Official advices received at Cairo from Thana say that friendly natives are pursuing the rebels; also that orders were issued to give quarter to everyone.

The Finance Minister is highly delighted with the result of the first quarter of the present fiscal year, the receipts being largely in excess of the same period last year and expenditures considerably below.

SOWING WILD OATS.

Church Union: A phrase has long been in common use which has wrought great evil. It is that of "sowing wild oats." It implies that youth must have a time of wickedness, the defying of authority and the abuse of opportunity, after which all will come right. Never was there a more diabolical lie. That which you sow you shall reap: if you sow wild oats, you shall reap wild oats. Not one instance can be found in all humanity where the evils indulged in youth did not mar and scar the soul through life. * * * There's a penetrability and permanency in the virus of indulgence that defies every remedy for removal while we are in the flesh. * * * The indulgence in sin is directly contrary to the aspiration for manliness which is so conspicuous in youth, and which we desire to make enduring, and hence, in order to meet this difficulty, we are apt in our youth to modify our notions of manliness, to eliminate from its definition many of its most important elements, and so to reduce it that it will allow the other-wise prohibited indulgences. We hold on, for example, to the doctrine that manliness forbids lying—it would be a disgrace to us to be found starting what was not so—but we permit the look or the silence that is the same as a lie. We hold on to the doctrine that it is unmanly to harm the honor of woman, but we permit the low jest and the vile story to be circulated in our company. We hold on to the doctrine that any man's person is sacred, but we count it manly to strike the blow of revenge or to vaunt over the vengeance by a challenge to mortal combat, and so we narrow more and more our definition of manliness until at length we get it so narrow, that it will not be in our way when a temptation to sin calls us.

Laziness travels so slowly that poverty overtakes her.

If your neighbor's offence is rank, don't let yours be rancor.

That which is done for self dies. Perhaps it is not wrong; but it is peculiar.

Courage, the commonest of the virtues, obtains more applause than discretion, the rarest of them.

A man might often earn enough money in the time he wastes in bewailing the want of it.

The froth of the head generally becomes venom when it reaches the heart.

Indulgence is to the mind like moss to a tree; it deth it up so as to stop its growth.

They say that fortune is blind, and she certainly, as a general rule, makes her favorites so.

Few persons understand how deeply and silently a child may suffer.

The Nor West Farmer

Wants Manitoba

And the North West

TO YIELD A GREATER RETURN TO THE FARMER.

We are doing our best to bring about this happy state of affairs, and want the help of every intelligent man in the prairie provinces.

AND MANITOBA MILLER,

Is devoted to the interest and advancement of agriculture on the prairies of Canada. It is filled each issue with running over with information, facts and practical experiences relating solely to the best methods of prairie farming in all its branches. It is for this reason invaluable to the farmers and stockmen of the country, while its Household and children's department presided over by a lady, makes it a most interesting companion at the fireside for the "good wife and heirs."

THE NOR'-WEST FARMER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING CO. (Ld.)

WM. CLARK, C. E. KEANEYSIDE, Editor.

We have made arrangements with the publishers of the above 32-page journal to club it with THE QU'APPELLE PROGRESS. The regular subscription price of the two is $2.00, but by the clubbing arrangement we are enabled to offer both for $1.75 for one year.

OUR TERMS.

We have placed our yearly subscription at the low rate of ONE DOLLAR, with the object of enforcing advance payment. Cutting Women's Noses.

The horrible crime of mutilating women by cutting off their noses is so common in Bombay as to call for the most stringent repression, and nothing we imagine, will repress it but the free use of the lash. In the sessions ending yesterday, Mr. Justice Scott had to hear three—we might say five—of these cases, one after the other. He postponed the sentences for a week, and we were in hopes that he would in each case order the criminals to be flogged within an ace of their lives.

Eventually, however, he sentenced them severally to what he considered to be the usual punishment, three years' rigorous imprisonment. We are inclined to regret that the learned sessions Judge, new as he is to the country, did not throw precedent over altogether. Surely there are cases in which the lash would be at once the most stinging punishment and the best deterrent.

Estimated by the misery inflicted, even the most severe of these punishments is too trivial, and if the law does not permit of flogging in the cases of such cruel mutilation, the law should be altered. The miserable women who are mutilated in this way are, of course, sent to the workhouse. He postponed the sentences for a week, and we were in hopes that he would in each case order the criminals to be flogged within an ace of their lives.

—“I understand that Spokeland couldn't make a living down on the bottom,” said a man meeting an acquaintance. “No; had to move away.” “Wasn't the land good?” “First-rate, but the trouble with him was laziness. He was too lazy to live in that country. That's no place for a lazy man, let me tell you. Why, sir, that fellow had a chill one day and was too lazy to shake. In that country it is necessary for a man to shake when he has a chill. It ain't right to buck against nature.”—Arkansas Traveller.

WEBSTER'S PRACTICAL

Probably all of our readers have occasion to use a dictionary every day. In some cases words cannot be correctly spelled in others, the pronunciation is difficult, while in still other cases the meaning is not understood. This is true not only of children and of the uneducated, but of many of the most cultivated as well, and every one who is conversant with Webster's Practical Dictionary will acknowledge the value of such a work as a constant reference.

Webster's Practical is an entirely new work, the editors and publishers of Webster's Unabridged and contains more than twice the amount of text and illustrations ever before offered for the price.

It is a work of great value to every one who is conversant with Webster's Practical Dictionary will acknowledge the value of such a work as a constant reference.
